How can we make the difference? For those of us who seek an education, we have the manpower and the facilities at our disposal to grant this wish. Although we are in the midst of a recession, financial aid is available. At present, we abound with natural resources. Many of our youth possess the desire and the potential to voyage forward. However, we have poverty, and we have the homeless. We have diseases which are untreatable. We have violence in the streets, and there is a breakdown of moral values. In addition, we have indifference.*

The future holds many challenges. For some, it could be working in the medical field striving to find a cure for AIDS and Cancer. Others may seek political office. Among our classmates, we may have the first woman to sit in the Oval Office. For many of us, the challenge could be making the difference in everyday living. Every role in society is crucial. Each of us will have his own impact on the lives of others.

Most of the decisions made now will have an impact on the future. It may seem superficial at the time, but one certain decision could affect many. There are many items in the world today that need to be changed. Let us not make mistakes twice; we should learn from past generations. The society of the next generation should be much improved from the society we inherited from the last.

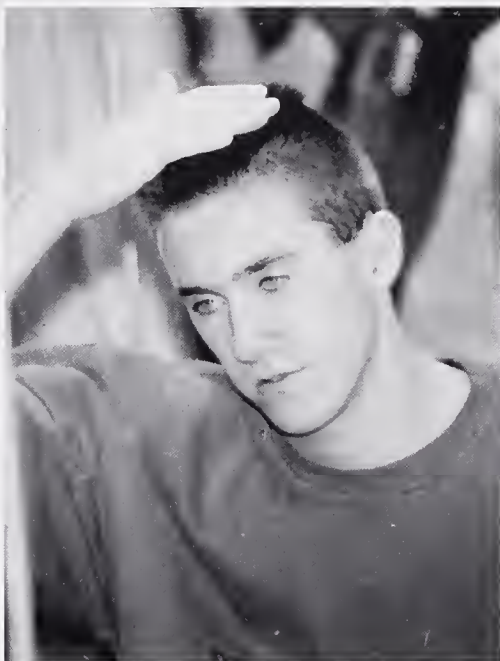

In the world in which we live today, there are too many stereotypes and prejudices. There must be an honest effort made by our generation to change those stereotypes and prejudices. If we work together, a difference can be made. This cannot happen if the responsibility keeps being passed on from person to person. People must concentrate on changing their own views. It starts with each individual and can make an impact on our entire generation. However, this is not the only change that must occur to change our world for the better.

The environment is another key issue of our future. Our generation has inherited an environment with multiple problems. Our world is filled with pollution whether in the air, the water, or on the land. There is much to be done. This problem is more difficult to change because it is not only difficult to change people's attitudes, but there is also much damage done from years past. The only way this change can be made is with a concentrated effort from all those concerned. With the seriousness of this issue, it should concern everyone.

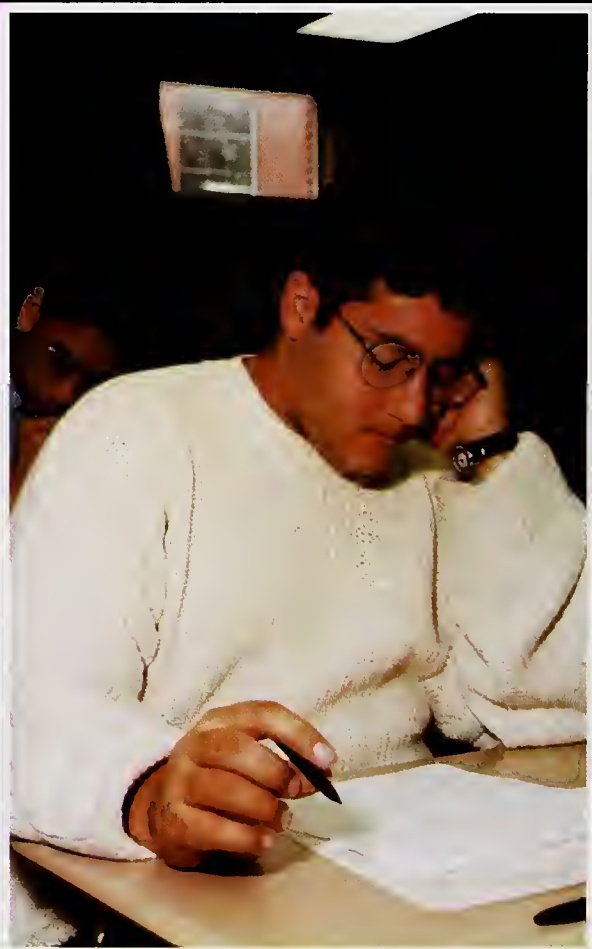

The only way the earth can be saved is if the laws that already exist are enforced and new, stricter laws are created. Although there have been laws in the books for many years, they have not been strictly enforced. The laws are broken every day, and nothing is done to change this. Everyone from our generation must take a stand on this issue and force a change. There is only one earth. If our generation works to halt the depletion of the ozone layer and the destruction of the rainforests, we can make a difference.

WE ARE THE DIFFERENCE

June 1993

To the Class of 1993 :

The time you have looked forward to for so long is now here. It is a time filled with great expectations and maybe a little trepidation.

For the past four years, you have listened to teachers, you have accepted direction, you have performed according to instructions. You now have to act independently and purposefully. You are on your own.

Whether you go on to college or you opt to enter the working world, you will be in an environment which will not be quite so nurturing as the environment of the past four years.

It is my hope that the years you have spent at Randolph Junior/Senior High School will stand by you well. We have tried to foster in you independent thinking, decisionmaking, teamwork, pride, and success in your accomplishments. These characteristics and skills should help you to make responsible decisions for the future.

Keep in mind that success will not be instantaneous. You must apply yourself diligently to the work or the study which you choose. Do not become discouraged. Have pride in yourself, your work, and your accomplishment.

Everyone of us here at Randolph Junior/Senior High School wishes you well in your endeavors. Come back to share your successes with us.

Sincerely,

James E. Watson

WINTER WONDERLAND

Let's boogie.

Come on babe, work with me!

How low can you go?

Which one should I dance with next?

Smile, so we can get this over with!

She said what? Really? I can't believe it?

You don't have to tell me; I know I look good.

Could you please pick up the pace!

Sexy ladies!

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

OOOH! What's everyone looking at?

Let's blow this joint, honey!

NIGHT OUT ON THE TOWN

Looking good, just don't trip Richelle.

Where's that water I ordered?

When did you get so short.

Which way do I go?

Don't hate me because I'm beautiful.

Where's my date?

I told you there would be grub here!

1992 Blue Devils Football

The Blue Devils started off the 1992 season with three straight victories including an exciting defeat of division II powerhouse Lincoln-Sudbury. After losing two heartbreakers, Randolph hosted Marshfield, who was undefeated at that point. It was no contest. Devils won 28-0, sweet revenge from last year. At 6-3, the Devils traveled to Hingham on Thanksgiving. The Seniors were pumped up for this "mud bowl" and performed brilliantly in their last game winning 19-6. The 1992 BLUE DEVILS FOOTBALL TEAM will be one to remember!

Swim To Win

The girl's swim team had a winning season this year. They placed third in the Pilgrim Conference League. Many swimmers qualified for the South Sectionals Championship and for the State Championship. Many young swimmers remain on the team which should ensure promising seasons in the future.

The Randolph Blue Devil Soccer Team had a tough season in 1992. We played with a lot of heart but could not come up with a win. Many of last year's starters were lost to graduation which made for a struggling season. Graduating Seniors Jonathan Weinberg, Rich Chang, Mike Shoenig, and Paul Chirichiello helped to make a hard season a little lighter.

Hey! How did Manute Bol get in that picture!

The 1992-93 Randolph High School boy's basketball team saw 7 sophomores and 5 seniors have their own separate teams. As the season progressed, the two teams combined as one and got on to a pretty good season. A lot of people do not give underclassmen a lot of credit or respect. However, thank you, Sophomores for giving us seniors the best season ever. Good luck the next two years! Special thanks to coach Wilkes for Four great years.

This is Coach Jim Maher's last season with the Randolph Wrestling program and the team would like to thank him for his dedication and contributions throughout the years.

Although the Blue Devil Hockey Team had a tough season as far as wins and losses. They had many positive things come out of this season. With no senior on the team, the Blue Devils have a lot of promise for next year. Coach Yandle did an excellent job of improving the team game after game. The Team experienced many "Growing Pains" but were able to keep their heads held high. Although they received many laughs this year, they will laugh the hardest next year.

Senior All-Star Captain Scott King — "the ball is my friend."

Captain Eric Gotlieb prepares for a fierce backhand return.

Talented Senior Captain Ken Richmond uses a racket and his mouth.

Mark Bass — "I hope the telethon raises enough money for me."

After losing four seniors, the tennis team did a lot of rebuilding this year. The lineup changed seven times. Scott King had a great year at number 1 singles. He was an A.C.L. All Star this year as well as last. Bryan Orquiola, John Long, and Eric Gotlieb had numerous wins in singles. Senior Kenny Richmond ended his season with a bang by easily defeating the number three singles of Dennis-Yarmouth. Second doubles Tim Trull and Buddy Gass won all but two matches. They will be a very successful doubles team in the future. With five returning varsity players, the tennis team will be a force to be reckoned with next season.

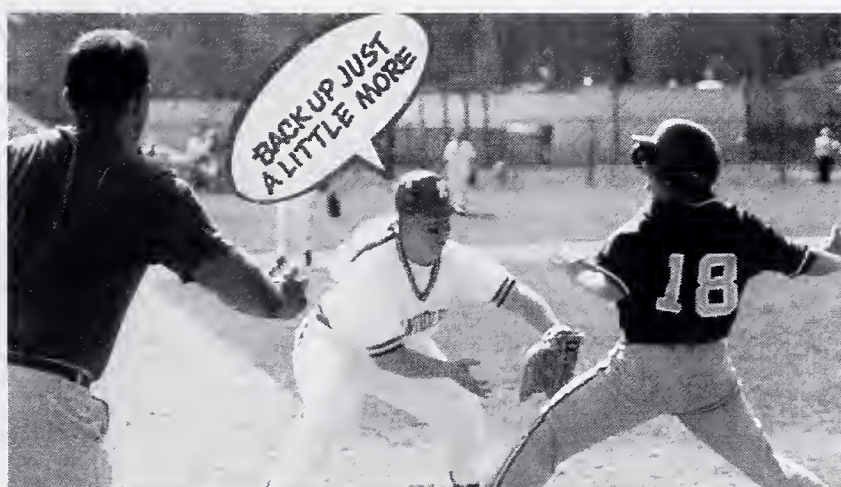

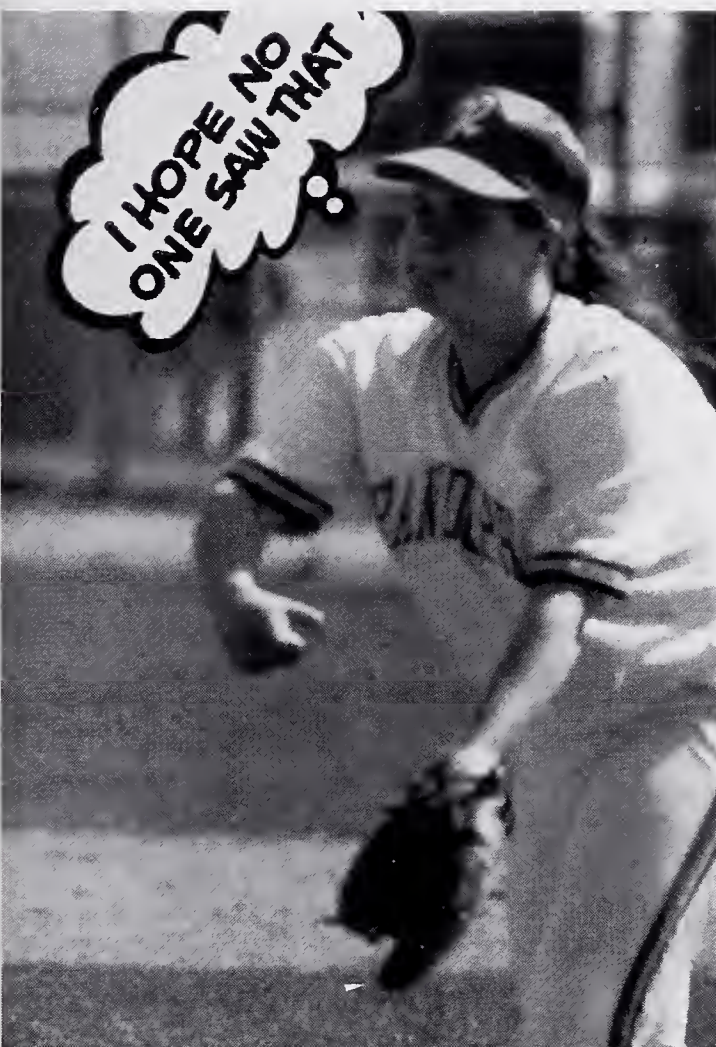

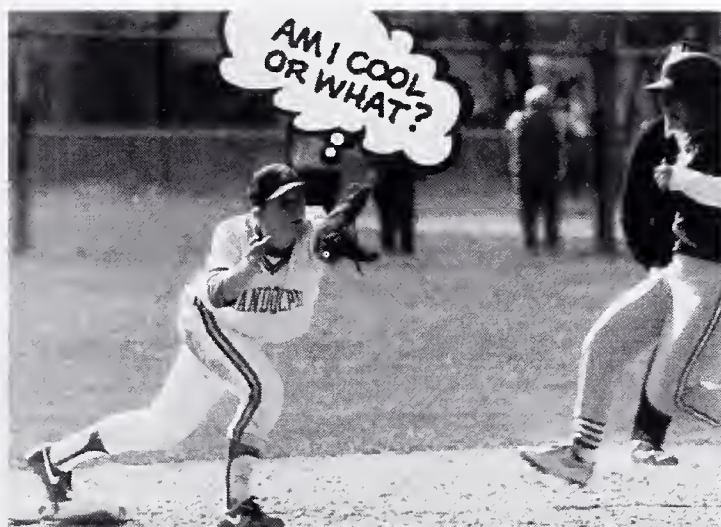

We had a young team, but we still did well.

Randolph, Massachusetts

1793 - 1993

This is the first picture we have that shows what Randolph looked like long ago. It was drawn for a book that was published in 1839. We are standing in front of where the Town Hall is today, looking up North Main Street towards the Blue Hills.

The following description accompanied the picture:

"In the following cut, the church seen on the left is the first Congregational church. The first meeting-house ever erected in this town stood on this spot. The present building is the third which has been built. The first settlement in this town was made in the vicinity of this church. The principal part of the central village is situated on a street running about a mile northwesterly of this church, at the northern extremity of which is the Baptist church, which is just discernible in the distance, in the engraving. The village consists of about 100 dwelling-houses, with the usual number of stores and mechanic stops. This place is 14 miles from Boston, 11 from Dedham, and 8 from Weymouth landing. East Randolph, a flourishing village is about 2 miles eastward; is about two thirds the size of the central village, and contains two churches, 1 Congregational and 1 Baptist. There is also another Baptist church in the south part of this town, near the Stoughton line. The Randolph Bank is located in this town. In 1837, there were manufactured in this town 200,175 pairs of boots, 470,620 pairs of shoes; the value of boots and shoes, $944,715; males employed, 804; females, 671. Population 3,041."

HISTORY OF RANDOLPH

Brief Chronology (From the Beginning of European Settlement)

- 1629-1640 Great migration of settlers from England to New England (for religious freedom, to escape tyrannical rule of King Charles I and because of poor economic conditions at home).
- 1640 Church members of the Precinct* of Braintree were granted a charter. This was the first instance of self government by the English settlers in this area. This precinct included what is now Braintree, Quincy, Randolph, and Holbrook.
- 1665 Braintree Precinct was officially deeded (sold) by the Native American Massachusetts Tribe to the settlers for twenty one (21) pounds and ten (10) shillings. Wampatuck, the Son of Chief Chicataubet, was raising money to buy weapons to fight the Mohawks.
- 1728 Area in South became a separate precinct. Entire area had divided into two precincts twenty (20) years earlier. Now area was divided into three parts:
- North Precinct — Present Day Quincy
- Middle Precinct — Present Day Braintree
- South Precinct — Present Day Randolph and Holbrook
- 1792 South precinct gathered enough votes to request permission from the State (The General Court) to become a separate township.
- 1793 General Court granted approval and the new township of Randolph was born on March 9th. (Believed to have been named after Peyton Randolph of Virginia, who was the first President of the Continental Congress.) First town meeting was held on April 1st.
- 1800 Population of Randolph was 1,021.
- 1872 East Randolph separated and became the township of Holbrook.

*Precincts were established for the purpose of maintaining public worship.
